

Communication relay base station

Overview

Communication relay stations are vital components in military operations, serving as the backbone of battlefield connectivity. The RF-7850A-MR and RF-7850A-UA provide a seamless exchange of real-time voice and high-speed data. Base station (or base radio station, BS) is - according to the International Telecommunication Union 's (ITU) Radio Regulations (RR) [1] - a " land station in the land mobile service.
