System Topology

Overview

According to Airports Council International (ACI), airports across the region are forecast to handle more than 1.1 billion passengers each year by 2040, nearly triple today's volumes (ACI, 2024). Few regions in the world are scaling at this pace. Since 2019, the Middle East has recorded the second. Public-private partnerships (PPPs) are increasingly being used to finance airport modernization projects in Middle East. The market is witnessing heightened competition among global contractors, engineering firms, and technology providers. Smart airport solutions such as automated check-in. Airports in the Asia-Pacific and Middle East regions are poised to undergo extensive development, with combined investments of US$240 billion dedicated to both upgrading existing facilities (brownfield projects) and building new airports (greenfield projects) between 2025 and 2035. Although such activity has reduced.
