

Electricity nouakchott

Overview

Long power cuts have paralysed Nouakchott since late June, forcing businesses and households to suspend activities for several hours each day. The interruptions, sometimes lasting more than six hours, underline the fragility of the Mauritanian Electricity Company (SOMELEC) network. The plant, equipped with four 18 MW generators being built in Germany and vital electrical systems like transformers and cables. Electricity shortage. Daily blackouts were common in major cities like Nouakchott and Nouadhibou, which had access to only 42 MW and 20 MW of diesel-based capacity respectively. The country depended on costly rented diesel generators, placing a heavy burden on the economy and accelerating change. The issue of water and electricity in Nouakchott and Nouadhibou will be definitively resolved in no more than 16 months through structural projects that will double the production of Lake Azhar, Boulnouar, Aftout Coastal and Lake Edeni by 100%, said Minister of Culture, Arts, Communication and. Mauritania will soon begin construction of a 220-megawatt hybrid power plant in Nouakchott under a public-private partnership, the Ministry of Energy announced on Wednesday.
