

Photovoltaic panel scam revealed by CCTV

Overview

Dozens of customers "filed complaints against a company called Pink Energy, which abruptly went out of business in September 2022 and filed for bankruptcy after allegedly selling defunct solar panels and misleading customers about their benefits," said Time. Solar panel fraud has become a growing concern in the United States, leaving many homeowners stuck with hidden fees, inflated energy bills, and contracts they never fully understood. With that demand comes fierce competition within the solar panel market. Scams, schemes and straight-up fraud abound in the dark underbelly of an otherwise light-filled industry. There are no federal government giveaways for solar panel installations, and no company is required to offer them for. The solar industry attracts both honest companies and clever con artists—here's how to tell them apart. Why trust EnergySage?

Your social media feed is probably full of them: ads promising free solar panels, guaranteed savings, or special government programs that'll pay you to go solar. gov/state-consume purchase agreement, or subscribing to a community solar.
