

Photovoltaic panels can be installed on the ground

Overview

As the name suggests, ground-mounted solar panels are mounted to the ground, rather than a roof. You need a lot more equipment, which adds up. But ground-mounted panels also. On top of being an alternative to rooftop solar, ground-mounted solar systems can be used on farms, in your garden, and more! In this article, we'll explain what a ground-mounted solar system is and if you should consider it for your property. The average cost is $53,800 (before tax incentives), or about 10% to 15% more than roof-mounted panels. They're a smart choice if your roof isn't ideal or you want a bigger, easier-to-maintain system.
